

a brief weekly bulletin of news, advice and practical information to help living with sight loss

The free weekly Infoshorts bulletin, produced in audio, is available to hear in many different ways. Always less than 10 minutes long, it contains short items of information about products, support services, financial matters, hobbies and leisure as well as useful hints, tips and life hacks to help living with sight loss.

Also, listeners and service providers are encouraged to phone-in and record a short message, maybe sharing information about a useful product or service. And these can be added to the weekly mix of news and information that aims to be informal, informative and impartial.

Infoshorts can be heard online at www.infoshorts.org, on Alexa smart speakers (say: “play Infosound”), on Apple smart speakers (say: “play the Infosound Podcast”), on the phone by dialling 03000 111 555 and on any podcast-playing device.

Infoshorts is produced and distributed by Infosound, a British charity registered in England and Wales (no. 1142082) and in Scotland (no. SC039929).
